Additional comments

Flags were very helpful for guessing the country.

Learning the national dish of countries I know less about is interesting and encourages me to look up more about them. I'd like to be able to do a few per day, or share a streak with others playing the game.

A short blurb about each dish once correctly guessed and its history would make the app more informative. Tweaking the layout to make the button text fully visible would make the app look more polished, but it functions well without errors. I could imagine setting into a regular routine of playing each day. A label explaining the hint boxes could be helpful in case someone does not access the tutorial.
