Were there any issues/bugs you came across while playing the game

When the hint told me it started with the letter B, I was confused as one of the options coming up after I typed "B" was a country that actually just had B in the name.

Additional comments

What a cool app you've got there.
I would have liked to have had the hint position randomised. After playing it twice I found that some hints, such as the flag are much more useful than the region of the food.
